PREFACE.

The design of The Marblehead Manual is simply to put on record in some permanent form, material relating to the history of the town of Marblehead, which might, otherwise, be lost. All that is claimed for the work is that it is a compilation of facts which may prove valuable and interesting for reference. The kindness of my friend ... Samuel R. Adams, to whom I am indebted for many favors, deserves recognition here, and he has my sincere thanks.

SAMUEL ROADS, JR.
From Journal of Nathan Bowen.

Aug. 14, Cloudy. An alarm in time of afternoon service to ye great terror of ye old women of both sexes. Detached a quarter of ye effective part of ye regiment and sent them westward.

Aug. 15, They marched under Capt. Orne.

Aug. 19, They returned, having marched to Westborough, and there remarched, not being wanted.

Sept. 14, The excessive and long-continued heat and drought of last summer so heated the earth that no rains as yet have been sufficient to quench it, or reduce it to the temper usual at this time of year. Whereas 'tis highly probable that we shall have no winter until ye earth be quenched, which may be a greater favor to the poor, as fuel is scarce. Notwithstanding we Americans supply near, perhaps, 40,000 mouths beside our own with fresh supplies. This shows that nature has been bountiful to this part of her work, and renders this country worthy the protection of Britain and ourselves, and may we be the care of the God of armies, in whom is everlasting strength.

1762. Jan. 21, Town Meeting.
Feb. 24, At 4 A.M. Rev. Mr. Bours died. He was a good man, naturally good, relatively good and exemplary good, lamented by all orders and ranks of men, in particular his brethren in the clergy tho dissenters! They assisted in bearing his pall to the grave.
Feb. 27, Bours buried. The sudden and immature death of Mr. Bours is a matter of lamentation tho the town. As this is the first Church minister that has died in this town, so the first whose departing was lamented.
March 6, Yesterday a number of inhabitants cleared away the snow and opened the road to Salem; before impassable.
March 9, Training to-day.
March 10, Training.
May 9, Chose Col. Fowle representative.
1762. June 26. A great number of meadow-worms appear in Cross street and Meadow. I saw vast numbers of them on the board fence street, etc. These are the same species of worms as were so numerous in June, A. D. 1743. They have six pairs of legs, viz.: two close behind their neck, two pair abaft, and at the hinder end two sharp spears of seeming horn. They draw up their hind parts and by those spears throw their whole body forward. They are striped of a greenish-yellow, smooth, have large eyes something like that of a fly, of various colors, veined like marble.

Aug. 25, Parson Whitwell ordained.

1765. Jan. 1, We are now, thro the Divine goodness, arrived at the threshold of a new year. When I look back on the various affairs and occurrences of the past year, I find myself in the pleasant month of May delivered from one of the greatest of evils and admitted to one of the greatest of goods.

Jan. 4, John Boden came here from Natick.
nearly 40 miles, in about 14 hours on baskets most of the way.

1765. Jan. 8, Capt. Curtis' wife interred in the new mode, etc., without mourning, to the approbation and applause of all persons who attended, viz.: the principal gentlemen of the town and many others! And 'tis hoped the mode will prevail in town to the saving of thousands per annum.

June 30, Mother Bowry was buried 28. 'Tis said she was 104 years old, a mere child, and for want of the use of the first principle in nature (self-preservation) she fell into the fire, and being alone, was burnt to death.

Aug. 9, A lad fell from the head of a mast and dashed out his brains.

Aug. 23, Church clock set going new.

Oct. 11, The hands of the dial plates on the east and south octaves of the Church in this town, were put up, by being turned by a vertical rod by which the arbor gives motion to the hands and carries them round on the several hours of the plain; those hands standing not less than 18 feet above the arbor that moves them. The people's faith wavered as to the possibility of such a performance, but now they see the thing naturally effected by the use of machinery they are satisfied, but only exclaim, "Who would have thought it!"

1765. Oct. 15, Dials perform well and keep time to the general satisfaction of judicious eyes.

Nov. 6. We are in a cloud of difficulty about the Stamp act. God only knows when or how it will end.

EXTRACTS FROM THE JOURNAL OF A MARBLEHEAD PRIVATEERSMAN CONFINED ON BOARD BRITISH PRISON SHIPS, 1813, 1814, 1815.

The journal from which the following extracts were taken was kept by Francis G. Selman of Marblehead, First Lieutenant of the privateer Growler, and was begun on board that vessel and continued during his subsequent confinement on board several British prison ships as a prisoner of war:—

1813. Wednesday, June 22. These 24 hours commences with gentle breezes and pleasant weather. All hands employed in exercising carriage guns. At 8 P. M., took in all light sails and brailed up the foresail. Middle part, quick breezes. Single-reefed the foretopsail. At 3 A. M., passed between 2 large sails. Supposed them to be enemy’s frigates. Made all sail and soon lost sight of them. Lat. by obser., 40° 31', north. Last part, moderate breezes and hazy weather. All hands employed in ship’s duty. So ends these 24 hours.
Thursday, June 23, Light winds and cloudy weather. At 4 P. M., all hands employed in exercising carriage guns.

Friday, June 24, At 6 A. M., hauled to and sounded but found no bottom. Still very thick of fog. At 11 A. M., saw a schooner close aboard standing on the wind to the northward. Called all hands to quarters and hauled to the northward close on a wind after him but it being foggy lost him. At meridian, cleared away so as to get an observation. Lat. by obser., 43.11.

Sunday, June 26. These 24 hours commences with gentle breezes and pleasant. At 1 P. M., sounded in 35 fathoms of water and caught 5 halibuts. At 4, Sable Island bore N. by E., distance 8 miles. At 5, sounded in 20 fathoms. At 8 P. M., the coast of Sable Island bore west 6 leagues, from which I take my departure, being in Lat., 44.5, Long. 60.3.

Tuesday, June 28. The 24 hours commences with gentle breezes and pleasant weather. At 1 P. M., saw two to the northward. Took in all light sails and wore ship and gave chase ahead. At 3.30 P. M., came alongside and boarded her, and found her to be the English sch’r Phebe from Prince Edward's Island, bound to St. John's, Newfoundland, with a cargo of lumber. Finding her to be of little value, and that the other vessel coming up to be a gun brig, let her proceed. At 4, tack ship to the westward. At 5, proud ship to the windward. At 6, fresh gales and squally, with rain. Brailed up the foresail and took in the topsail and flying jib. Lat. by obser., 46.30.

1813. Wednesday, June 29, At 8 A. M., saw a sail off the weather bow, and hauled to and made sail in chase for him. At 9, made him out to be a square-rigged vessel standing by the wind to the northward. At 10, saw the land, but the weather being so thick could not discover what it was. At 11.30, the chase tackt and stood off, when we immediately tackt and found her to be a 74-gun ship. Made all sail to get clear. Lat. by obser., 46.45.

Thursday, June 30, These 24 hours commences with quick breezes and hazy weather. The 74-gun ship still in chase of us, but we found that we outsailed her. At 3.30 P. M., took in main-top-mast staysail and F. top. G. sail. At 6, saw a sail to the leeward and we bore in chase and soon found her to be a brig. At 7 P. M., it came full of fog and we lost sight of the chase and hauled to on the wind.

1813. Middle part, Still foggy. At 10 P. M. fell alongside of the above brig and ordered him to heave to and send his boat on board, when the captain and 4 men came on board, and found her to be the English brig Kingston packet from St. Johns, bound to ——— in the River St. Lawrence. Ordered the mate to lay by till daylight.

Last part, Fair. At daylight boarded her and found her of but little value, being in ballast. Took out the prisoners, eleven in number. William Twentyman (?) master; also took all the articles of any value, and then scuttled her in order to sink her. Two sail then in sight. At 10.30 A. M., boarded an English schooner from Prince Edward's Island bound to St. Johns. Found her to be of no value and let her proceed. At 11, set the lights ails. At meridian, the wreck had her tops in the water, when she soon went down. Lat. by obser. 45.49.

Monday, July 4, Light breezes and foggy.

At 11 A. M., sounded in 45 fathoms of water. At meridian the fog cleared up, saw a brig 2 miles to leeward under short sail, which we found to be a man-of-war brig. When he discovered us he immediately made all sail in chase and we made sail to get clear, after firing a number of shot at him. Lat. by obser., 46.37.

1813. Tuesday, July 6, At 1 P. M., tack ship to the southward. At 3.30 P. M., it came full of fog and we lost sight of the brig. We then bore away and set the square sail, top-mast staysail, and lower studding. At 3.40 P. M., out all sweeps and went to rowing. At 4.30 P. M., took in the sweeps. At 7, took in all light sails.

Wednesday, July 6, At 6 A. M., tack ship to the northward. All necessary sail set. At 8 A. M., saw a man-of-war brig bearing S. S. W., who immediately gave chase to us and we made all sail to get clear.

Thursday, July 7, These 24 hours commences with moderate breezes and hazy weather. The brig still in chase of us. Made St. Peter’s Island right ahead. At 1.30 P. M., passed by a number of fishing boats, finding the brig to gain on us very fast. At 2, came close by St. Peter’s harbor and passed to the eastward of Columbia.
Island and intended to beat to windward between St. Peter and Langley Islands, but the brig came between St. Peters and Columbia Island which cut us off and brought her within gun-shot, when we bore away and the action commenced in a running fight for 1 hour and 30 minutes. After being cut very much in our rigging and sails and all means of escape fruitless, we were compelled to strike to H. M. sloop-of-war Electra of 1624 lb. caronades and two long nine-pounders when we was all taken on board the sloop-of-war.

1813. Friday, July 8. These 24 hours commences with stiff breezes and foggy weather. Kept firing signal gun for the Growler. At meridian it cleared up, when we bore away for St. Lawrence harbor in company with the Growler. At 4 P.M., came to anchor both of us in about 15 fathoms of water. All our people now in irons.

Saturday, July 9, At midnight Capt. Lindsey went on board the Growler to go in her to St. Johns, Newfoundland. Last part still foggy. The Growler firing signal guns in distress, when the boats of the Electra were manned out to assist her, she having her cable cut off.

1813. Sunday, July 10, The Growler sailed for St. John's. Nothing more remarkable, only our trouble now begins.

Monday, July 11, Our people's bags searched by order of Capt. Gregory, and a number of articles stolen from them.

Tuesday, July 12, Got under weigh and proceeded on a cruise in the sloop-of-war. This day 3 men flogged belonging to the ship with 3 dozen each.

Wednesday, July 13, Saw St. Peters Island bearing N. W. 4 boys flogged with 2½ dozen each.

Thursday, July 14, 1 man and 4 boys flogged, the man with 3 dozen and the boys with 2 dozen each.

Friday, July 15, Caught a number of cod-fish. This day 3 men flogged with 2 dozen each. The goat had one dozen.

Saturday, July 16, Caught a number of cod-fish. This day 2 men flogged, 1½ dozen each. Boarded an Englishman.

Sunday, July 18, Capt. Gregory beastly drunk. All the boys and all the dogs and the goat flogged with two dozen each.
1813. Tuesday, July 20, This day there is no flogging, something very remarkable.

Friday, July 23, Anchored in St. Peter's harbour after water.

Saturday, July 24, Got under weigh and came to sea. This day 1 man flogged with 1½ dozen.

Sunday, July 25, Fair weather. Boarded a brig from London bound to Quebec with presents from the British to the allies, the Indians, so the 2d Lieut. of the Electra informed me. Capt. Gregory to convoy her as far as Cape Ray.

Monday, July 26, Fair weather. Boarded a ship from Bristol, England, bound to Quebec laden with salt. 4 boys and the dogs flogged with 2 dozen each.

Tuesday, July 27, Fair, but a head wind. Ship and brig still in company. 2 men flogged with 2½ dozen each.

Wednesday, July 28, Fair weather. Wind ahead. Capt. Gregory went on shore and brought off a number of sea fowl from New Foundland Island. Very large bodies of snow on the land. 2 men flogged, 2 dozen each.

Thursday, July 29, Fair weather. Wind still ahead. Ship and brig still in company. 2 men flogged with 2 dozen each.

1813. Friday, July 30, Fair weather. Wind still ahead. Ship and brig still in sight. Mr. Smith, 1st Lieut. of the Electra, informed me that the brig's cargo that was under convoy was invoiced at £200,000 sterling.

Monday, August 2d, Fair weather. Wind hauled to the westward. Saw Cape Ray. Parted from the ship and brig. All the boys and dogs and goat flogged with 2 dozen each.

Wednesday, Aug. 4, We Americans proposed to rise and take the sloop of war if an opportunity offered.

Saturday, Aug. 7, Quite moderate and foggy weather. A large swell from the southwest at 2 P. M. made a large breach of rocks just under our lee, when they immediately let go one anchor. Middle part. The wind began to breeze from the S. S. W. Last part. Hard gales and thick weather. Vessel began to drift. Let go the other anchor. At daylight found ourselves within two cables' length of the western part of Langley Island, when Capt. Gregory gave orders to let our men out of irons, as we expected all to go to eternity if her cables cut off, as the land was 200 feet perpendicular, Capt. Gregory at this time crying like a child.

1813. Sunday, Aug. 8, Tedious hard gales. Still to anchor and all the boats are moored astern with three crews in them. A tremendous sea running. Still expecting every moment to be our last, but as God would have it the rain hauled to the northward when they cut the cables and run in to St. Peter's harbour and came to anchor, when all our men were put in irons again.

Tuesday, Aug. 10, This day I accidentally found 2 keys in the gunner's state room, where I slept and was locked in every night, which fitted the locks to the bars that our people were ironed to, and gave them to Mr. Getchell so as to let the prize masters out.

Wednesday, Aug. 11, Sent the boats a watering. This day 2 boys flogged with 2 dozen each. Mr. Getchell got keys enough to fit all the locks.

Monday, Aug. 16, Went into the harbor of St. Lawrence when Capt. Gregory and some of his officers went on shore. At night he came on board drunk. We had this day agreed to try the result to-night. Got everything in readiness. I unlocked my door and Mr. Brown his, which was the boatswain's store room. At 2 A.M. signal was made. Mr. Rust, who slept in the gun room with the Lieut. was to arm himself there. The people got all the irons off their feet, but the bar that John Cash was on. He having the key would not let the rest of the people have it nor unlock it himself when we were in expectation of starting, but his keeping back frustrated the whole design. 3 boys flogged 2 dozen each.

1813. Tuesday, Aug. 17, All the ship's company armed. There is very great suspicion of Cash giving information of our premeditated intention, as he had victuals sent him from the officers.

Saturday, Aug. 21, Saw the entrance of St. John's harbour. At meridian took pilot, passed the Chair rock and anchored in St. John's harbour, when we found by information from the shore that Capt. Lindsey was sent to England.

1813. Sunday, Aug. 22, We were all sent on board the Triton, prison ship. And rejoiced enough were we to get clear of her and to cleanse ourselves as we were all full of lice.

Monday, Aug. 23, All hands employed in washing their clothes. The English Agent for prisoners of war came on board to examine the crew of the Growler to see if there was no Englishmen amongst them, but he could not find any. After taking their protection he went on shore. Our daily fare on board the ship is found to be 1 lb. of bread, \( \frac{1}{2} \) lb. of meat and a gill of pease, for 24 hours, as the commander of the ship, Thomas Bishop, informed us.

Tuesday, Aug. 24, The boys allowed the privilege to go on shore after berries. This day the surgeon of the Growler came on board to see us. He was on parole ashore.

Wednesday, Aug. 25, John Cash with eleven of our crew and our surgeon was sent to Halifax.

Monday, Sept. 27, Immediately after getting on board the Talbot, we were with Capt. Turner's people put down the Talbot's hold on the water casks, where we have to sleep and eat, not having room enough to sit upright. Is this the treatment that the British show to the American prisoners? Mr. Head and Mr. Pain had the privilege to dine with Capt. Turner aft in the cock pit, but us poor fellows had no such leniency shown us.

1813. Tuesday, Sept. 28, Hove short to go to sea, but the wind not being favorable moored ship again. Part of us allowed to come on deck for 1 hour out of 24.

Wednesday, Sept. 29, We found our situation in the hold very disagreeable, not having room enough to string our hammocks to sleep nor sit down, when we made our complaints to the first Lieut. of the ship, but got no redress.

Friday, Oct. 1, They hove short to go to sea, but shortly after they moored ship. On inquiry, we found there were 4 Americans on board that were impressed, that had frequently given themselves up as Americans; but were always flogged and made to do duty, viz.: William Higgins of New London, William McCarty of Penobscot River, Thomas Hudson, a black man, of Boston, and Peter Martin, a mulatto, of Virginia.

Saturday, Oct. 2. We are still placed in the same condition. One of the marines informed me that we were sent to England for endeavoring to take the Electra.

Tuesday, Oct. 5. A signal was made for sailing, when the fleet, consisting of thirty-six sail of merchant vessels got under weigh and went to sea, when we got under weigh in company with Bellenphon line of battle ship and the Crescent frigate. Shortly after we passed the chain rock and joined Convoy.

Wednesday, Oct. 5. We were allowed for the first time, one half of us, to come on deck two hours out of 24. We had an opportunity to talk with Capt. Turner, when we agreed if an opportunity offered to rise and try to take the ship from them, we being in all 23 in number.

Thursday, Oct. 7. Parted from the two-decker and frigate with 16 sail of the Convoy, it being thick weather.

Friday, Oct. 8. Only 4 of us allowed to come on deck at a time. Still obliged to keep down in the forehold as usual.

Saturday, Oct. 9, 20 sail of the Convoy in sight. Our situation truly was shocking. We now all began to be lousy.

Sunday, Oct. 10. We all agreed when we started to seize the cutlasses and pistols under the half deck.

Thursday, Oct. 14. That Lieut. that came on board as a passenger, perceiving that our looks altered by the confinement in the hold, came to us and said that he would use his influence to get us more liberty, which we thanked him for his kindness.

Friday, Oct 15. One half of us allowed to come on deck 1½ hours in the forenoon, the other half allowed the same in the afternoon.

Saturday, Oct. 16, Quick breezes. Mr. Gatchell, in discoursing with some of the ship's people, found they would not take an active part against us.

Sunday, Oct. 17, All of us allowed to come on deck, when we thought it a favorable opportunity to make a start, one half to get possession of the gun deck, first secure the arms under the half deck. The other half to hold possession of the spar deck, to first seize the arms in the capstan, when Capt. Turner was to make the signal, but, for what reason we did not know, at the same time 2 of Turner's men fell back, one by the name of Nathan Webb and Sylvanus Cook, when we were ordered below.

Thursday, Oct. 21, Fair weather. The sergeant of marines ordered us under the half deck where the arms were, but the First Lieut. come and ordered us below.

Friday, Oct. 22, William Hutchins said that he had been discoursing with some of the ship's company, and they agreed to assist us in taking her.

Tuesday, Oct. 26, They would not hand us any fresh water to drink, when we drained some out of the water casks and they found it out, when they swore we should have nothing but salt water to drink.

Wednesday, Oct. 27, Made the Rock of Lisbon. The vessels bound in there posted Convoy. Still expecting to get an opportunity to take her.

Saturday, Oct. 30, Broke down the bulk head of the after hold so as to get up that way.

Monday, Nov. 1, Saw Cape Spartel. Parted with the remainder of the fleet that was bound into the Mediterranean, and then they shaped their course for England.

Saturday, Nov. 6, Got ready to make a start. At 2 A. M. all got in the after hold, when Capt. Turner was to make the signal down the main hatchway, but no signal was made when we all had to return. Davis went in through the bulkhead to the after hold, but for what reasons I don't know.

Sunday, Nov. 7, It appears that some rascal gave information of our intention of taking the ship and of the bulkhead being down. We were all ordered on deck under guard. They then demanded the key of Mr. Head's trunk and of mine, when they turned everything in my trunk upside down, took all my razors and knives from me, and then ordered us all down below and not to make the least noise or they would fire down amongst us.

Monday, Nov. 8, Still kept under very strong guard, only allowing one man to come on deck at a time and then with 2 marines. We now give up all hope of doing anything.
They now gave us bread not fitting for a pig to eat.

Saw the Isle of Wight. Shortly after anchored in Portsmouth harbour. Thank God!

Left the Talbot and her d—d officers, and was sent on board the Negro prison ship where we found 20 of our unfortunate countrymen who informed us that the British squadron on Lake Erie was all taken by the Americans.

We were all employed in cleaning ourselves from lice. Found our allowance to be $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of beef and $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of bread for 24 hours.

The beef that came on board appeared as if it was not fit for a dog to eat, when I told the Commander if such beef was carried on board a prison-ship in the United States that the person that carried it would be kicked out of the ship. I likewise told him the prisoners in America fared as well again as the American prisoners in England. His answer to me was, "No more from you."

Arrived at Spithead two troop ships from Halifax with American prisoners on board.
1813. Sunday, Dec. 26, An order came on board of the Negro for all Americans to hold themselves to go on board the Diamede troop ship to be sent to Chatham at meridian. The boats came for us when we were sent on board the Diamede at Spithead, where we found about 200 Americans who came from Halifax. Wind easterly.

Monday, Dec. 27, We were all put down the Diamede forehold on the water casks, a place not fit for a dog. We were allowed to come on deck in the afternoon.

1814. Saturday, January 1, A new year has commenced. Hoping by the blessing of God it will prove a happy one for us and likewise a victorious one for the armies of the United States of America. Wind hauled to the S. W. Got under weigh from Spithead in company with the troop ship Nemesis which has American prisoners on board, both bound to Chatham.

Friday, Jan. 7. We arrived at Chatham, where we were put on board of the Samson prison ship, where we found 400 Frenchmen on board. There was of us 350 Americans. These Frenchmen were put on board this ship, some for —— and others for theft. Thus the British treat the Americans. O shame!

1814. Saturday, Jan. 8, Found our allowance on board this ship ½ lb. of beef, 1 pound of bread for 24 hours. Not enough to support nature.

Tuesday, Jan. 11, William Follet, one of Capt. Cloutman’s crew, went into the hospital.

Friday, Jan. 14, I wrote to R. G. Beasly, Esq., American agent, respecting the allowance to the American prisoners, and likewise to know if the prisoners could not have some clothes.

Wednesday, Jan. 19, An order came on board for all the Americans amongst us that had given themselves up from a British man-of-war to hold themselves in readiness to go on board the Crown Prince.

Thursday, Jan. 20, All the Americans left this ship to go on board the Bahama prison ship where we found 400 Danes prisoners.

Tuesday, Jan. 25, Came on board this ship six Americans who had given themselves up from British men-of-war. Amongst them was William Pousland of Marblehead.
1814. Thursday, Jan. 27, Cold. William Follet of Marblehead departed this life and was bury'd on the flats where the tide flowed over it every high water. Is this the respect they pay to the last remains of a dead person?

Saturday, Jan. 29. The commander of the ship informed us Americans that the American government would allow the Americans now prisoners in England one penny half penny per day for each man, payable the last of this month, and payable monthly, which was agreeable news to us poor prisoners.

Sunday, Jan. 30, The small-pox has made its appearance on board this ship, likewise a fever has spread amongst the Danes on the upper deck. About thirty of them taken down with it. The first complaint is the headache and backache, with dizziness.

Tuesday, Feb. 1, Moderate breezes and pleasant weather. Two of the Danes dyed of the fever.

Wednesday, Feb. 2, William Hart, one of the Growler's crew, was taken sick and went into the hospital.

Friday, Feb. 4, The money which the American government allowed to its citizens, prisoners in England, came on board today, and was very acceptable.

1814. Monday, Feb. 7, There appears to be great talk of peace between the United States and Great Britain, according to the English papers. The fever on the upper deck rages to a great degree. From six to eight Danes are sent to the hospital daily.

Friday, Feb. 11, Information came on board this ship from the Crown Prince that Mr.
Charles Florence, late gunner of the Growler, was taken deranged and sent to Bedlam in London.

Saturday, Feb. 12, The commander of this ship began to move the sick from this ship on board the Trustee hospital ship.
There were seventy or eighty Americans and Danes. William Hart was amongst them.

board that William Hart, late of the Growler, and belonging to Thomastown, in Penobscot River, State of Massachusetts, died on board the Trustee hospital ship.

Thursday, Feb. 17, The Statesman newspaper gave Governor Strong's message to Legislature of Massachusetts, entire, in that paper. It is a pity the d—d old rascal of a Strong was not on board this ship.

1814. Thursday, Feb. 24, Arrived here two hundred and fifty American prisoners, said to be from Halifax, N. S. They went on board the Samson prison ship.

Monday, Feb. 28. An inspection took place by the physicians of the Americans and Danes, when eight or ten were sent to the hospital.

Note.—The Journal from which these extracts are taken, is very incomplete, and has been somewhat mutilated in the time that has elapsed since it was written. This will account for the fact that there is no record of Mr. Selman's release from prison. Since the Journal went to press the following additional entries have been discovered:—

1813, Friday, Aug. 27, Two of our people allowed to go outside the harbour's mouth with the marines and ketch some fish, which we found to be of great help as our allowance was hardly enough to support nature.

Sunday, Aug. 29, Pleasant weather. Mr. Rust, Mr. Brown and myself allowed to go on shore when we pleased by day.

Monday, Aug. 30, We find the fishermen in this place very kind in giving us as much fish as we wanted.

Tuesday, Aug. 31, Some of our people allowed to go on shore to work.

Saturday, Sept. 4, Arrived the American cartel ship Jenny, David Myers, master, in distress, being leaky, with 160 Americans, bound to Boston from Falmouth, England.
Sunday, Sept. 5, I went in company with Mr. Rust alongside the cartel to see if any men were on board, when I found Capt. John Dixey with a number of my townsmen on board. Finding no news and the small-pox on board, left her, she being in quarantine.

Wednesday, Sept. 8. Capt. Myers hired another ship to take home the Americans, and they all removed on board the other ship except those that had the small-pox, and they were sent on shore and put in tents built up in the woods.

Friday, Sept. 10. We wrote to Sir Richard G. Keats, Commander-in-Chief, at St. Johns, to see if he would parole all the Growler's crew to return home, but he refused.

Sunday, Sept. 12. This day I went alongside the cartel and put some letters on board to send to our friends in the United States, and the people that had the small-pox on shore were sent on board, except one black man who died.

Tuesday, Sept. 14. Some of our people went on board the ship Jenny to help fix her for sea.

Thursday, Sept. 16. Arrived the English frigate Crescent with the American privaschooner Elbridge Gerry, Samuel Turner, master, a prize.

Sunday, Sept. 26, To-day an order came on board the prison ship for Mr. Gatchell, Mr. Brown and myself, with eight others, to hold ourselves in readiness to go on board the sloop-of-war Talbot to be sent to England. At 4 P. M. we were sent on board of her where we found Capt. Turner and his First Lieut. James Head and Clement Pain his clerk, and Wm. Hitchins prize master, and John Davis, his pilot, and 7 others. They were to be sent to England.
